George IV and Mr. Pox.

From the "Memoirs of Mr. Fischerhert."

It is said that George IV. would not hesitata to resort to an out-and-out lie to relieve himself from an embarrassing position. O'Connell declared that it was his belief "that there never was a greater scoundrel than George IV," and related an occurrence that took place when the Prince, Mrs. Fitherbert, and Charles James Fox were diming together:

After dinner Mrs. Fitherbert said; By the by, Mr. Fox I had almost forgotten to ask you what you did say about me in the House of Commons the other night? The newspapers missepresent so very strangely that one cannot depend upon them. You were made to ear that the Prince authorized you to deny his marriage with me.' The Prince made monitory gimaces at l'ox, and immediately said: 'Upon my honor, my dear, I never authorized him to deny it.'— Upon my honor, sir, you did,' said Fox, rising from the table: 'I had always thought your father the greatest liar in England, but now I see that you are.' Fox would not associate with the Prince for some years, until one day that he walkeding unparanceed and found Fox at dir. Prince for some years, until one day that he Prince for some years, until one day that he walked in unannounced, and found Fox at dianer. Fox rose as he entered, and said that he had but one course to pursue, consistent with his hospitable duty as an English gentlemen, and that was to admit him.

Tae female headaches are innumerable, but they asise principally from vexation and disappointment. They may be divided into 'nervous' and 'sick headaches. The nervous is irritable, and cannot Bear being spoken to; the sick is despondent, or sulky, and bursts into tears at the first contradiction. When a lady cannot have her own way, a painful headache is the painful consequence. An unpopular visitor, brought home accidentally to dinner, will produce an alarming attack of headache, and the symptoms that successively follow are listent loss of appetite, deafness, peovishness, hysteria, and finally n precipitate retreat to the bed-room. The poor servants feel the effects of the headache as much as any one, and do not stay in the room longer than they can help. These unfortunate headaches are very frequent about that time of the year when every one is, or is supposed to be, out of fown, and do not case until the patient has been carried to the sea-side for change of air. The milder forms will vanish upon the application of a piece of jewelry; or if the forehead is wrapped up in a new shaw), it is astonishing with what rapidity the pain disappears. Sometimes a shifting of the scene is requisite, and thus a boyat the opera has been known to produce an instantaneous cure, even when the headache in question has been of the most stunning description and the opera played has been one of Verdi's.

Jinkits is a man who takes matters humorously. When his best friend was blown into the air by a "bustin biler," Jinkits cried after him. "There you go, my es-steamed friend!"

A lady's dressing box has lately been dug up at Cuma, Italy, containing a bronzed mirror, two fibulte of gold, elegantly worked in filegree, a box of bone, in which vermillion for painting the checks was kept, two hair pins of bone, a comb, and several other trinkets of uncertain use—all showing that the article Renay recovery.

NEW York, June 16th. The nomination of Mr. Buchanan for the Presidency by the Slave Convention at Cincinnoti awakes no enthusiasm, and can excite none on personal grounds, for the life and services of saying-Men who have been engaged in doing a Mr. Buchanan, and his personal bearing, afford mean thing are haunted by the ghosts of their no points on which to start enthusiasm. His deeds. In an article yesterday, levelled at the has been a public life of negations. He has Republicans, it says: never done anything, but has undone much, and never done anything, but has undone much, and especially has he undone, so far as depended if they lose sight of a free-State man in Kansas upon his influence and example and language, for a day, word comes on here that he is dead. upon his influence and example and language, all trast in the truth and integrity of public

Of this terrible charge-for terrible it should the Free-State men. he in an honest, enlightened free country---two striking proofs occur at once; the first, in his propagating, if not inventing, the falsehood of a corrupt bergain between Henry Clay and John Q. Adams, whereby the latter was made President and the former Secretary of State. Apoor creature, named Eramer, from Pennsylvania, was made to bear the brunt in public of this malicions fabrication, but its point and venom were traceable to the nigher authority of Mr. Buchanan. Mr. Clay's magnaminity spared the offender; but shall the nation, which he wronged and insulted by such a calumny upon two of its pure and faithful servants—pure and faithful by common consent, however great the differences about their political preferences and feelings-reward the Calmoniator?

The second was in his asseveration during, or previous to the excited canvass between Mr. Clay and Mr. Polk, which led to the election of 2 Tailff man as Mr. Clay." Now this assertion, valit of Mr. Buchanan, could not fail to exer- day as does a hard-worked Editor. cise great influence, and to overpower the reluctance in the Tariff State to support a man whose rotes and antecedents and party associations were all anti-Tariff. So far as it was influential, it was the influence of a deliberate lie-told for a political end by Mr. Buchanan; and he reaped. from thus cutraging truth and public and private morality, the office of Sec'y of State under Pres't Polic.

Two such spots upon the escatcheon of a man, at best of negative merits, should consign him to obscurity, or at the least, should forbid bis elevation to the highest station in our land.

But Mr. Buchanan himself, in accepting the slave holder's nomination, has said that it is the platform, not the individual standing on it, that is to be sustained, and that he cordially embraces that platform. Now, of that platform, the two chief planks are, 1st,-the extension of Slavery, and its at least equal rights with freedom, and 2d, the absolute depial to the government of the U. S. of any right or authority, frem the common treasure of the country, to improve its harbors, roads, or causis. It especially concerns the Free West, bordering on harborless lakes, or rushing, obstructed rivers-prosperous and flourishing &c or facilitate transportation, on the western lakes

Here is a letter received which thus strikes at once at the root of their this afternoon with the Independence post mark, Freedom and their prosperity, this platform may which explains itself. been breathed against him while living. If he was now on earth he would now be with the Republicans, for his whole course has shown that his great beart revolted at oppression everywhere, and in overy case sympatibled with the down-trodden and oppressed. He rendered an elequent tribute to the memory of Henry Clay, and closed with an carnest appeal to the Convention to unite harmoniously upon a candidate who could lead them on to a peace-honored victory. During the address frequent and enthusiastic applause marked the enthusiasm of the Convention.

The Vice-Presidents and Secretaries then took their place upon the stand.

F. G. Spaulding of Naw York, from the comparison of the State of the Spaulding of Naw York, from the comparison of the State. At the close of the session, though one of the Court.—After serving three years, in that capa-

The report was adopted.

An inquiry having been made as to whether anything was said in the report about a two-thirds rule, the President said the subject was not alluded to, but he supposed Republicans were willing to abide the will of the majority.

persons and lives whenever, wherever, however, and by whomsoever assailed. No, gentleman, threats will not now silence the representatives of the freemen of the North. We know that we have behind us fifteen millions of freemen, and that if we fall in the exercise of Constitutional rights, you have plenty of good and true men left to fill our places. Give yourselves no anxiety gentleman, your representatives will take care of themselves. Let it go over the world shat they stand ready and prepared to defend themselves from all attacks. But while we make that resolution and adhere to it, gentlemen of the North, make you the resolution to blot out for united. If the nominee be the present Speaker of the House, you know him as a man who has started to diffe out the invaders and suppress the difficulty. He will do it if his force is sufficient, if not, he says he shall call on the militia of the Territory. He fears that he will not be able to accomplish the work with his own force. He is thoroughly posted as to the movements in Missouri, keeping emissaries all along the border who are reporting to him almost hourly.—
Hence his fears of want of torce to subdue the ness and attention with which you have listened ness and attention with which you have listened to my few desultory remarks, and conclude by begging you to take for your motto:—"Freemen "of the North have a right to govern this coun-"try, for they are the party of Union, Law, Or-"doe and Taberts"

> A PRECEDENT NOT IN THE BOOKS.—The journals of Congress contain no case of a contested seat in tither House, like that which Whitefield of Kansas argues for. His claims are urged, not with legal arguments and formal testimony, in the Committee Rooms at Washington—but with a rifle and revolver upon the outskirts of Lawrence, and in the pockets, saddle-bags and trucks of travellers, whom he is searching and robbing, in company with some two hundred other thieves, whose captain ho is. It is the first known in stance of a claim to a seat in the House of Representatives, being temporarily abandoned to ena-ble the claimant to include his taste for felony. Albany Ere. Journal. SIGNIFICANT.—Referring to the late BUCHANAN ratification meeting in New Tork, the Times of that city says:-

"In the different proceedings we find Mr. Douglas and a number of Southern slave-owners mentioned as having spoken, but not the name of one citizen of the State—not a single individual who will participate in the election here in November next—as having raised his voice on the massion."

THE News AND THE "FOURTH."-The New backs straight down from its magniloquent tone:

Withdrawal of Mr. Seward. At the meeting of the New York delegation at Philadelphia on the 18th, says the New York

Mr. Grinnell moved that the Delegates proceed to ballot for a candidate for President.
Mr. John A. King moved to amend that the rote be taken o'ne roce, and that Hon. Wm. if.

duty to perform, and one which we deeply regret-ted to have assigned to him. There was no man in the country whom he would more earnestly desire to see nominated than Wm. H. Seward. He certainly was the first choice of the people of his district—he felt confident that he was the first choice of the people of New York, and of the outire North. Under circumstances which would justify the presentation of his name, there could be no doubt that freemen of the North would with one roles relie to his appear. the sentiments of that gentleman himself. Acting under these influences and guided by these sentiments, he had been authorized and instructed to withdraw the name of Mr. Seward, and in his behalf to decline the honor which the repre-sentatives of the State of New York had tender-ed to him.

Mr. John A. King, in a few terse, elegent

New Jersey Bar.

In 1812 he was appointed by Gov. Pennington to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate occasioned by the death of Senator Southard. The following winter he was elected by the legislature for the unexpired term of Mr. Southard, and continued to represent New Jersey in the high-set council chember of the nation until 1851. New Jersey Bar. est council chamber of the nation until 1851 est council champer of the nation until 1831.

In that body, where Caihoun, Clay and Webster—the intellectual Titans of the nation—were yet proudly pre-eminent, with Choate, Benton, Crittenden and Evans, and other distinguished orators and statesmen, the young Senator from New Jersey was not lost sight of. His brilliant oratory and strong common sense never failed to command attention and respect. In the memorable contest on the Texas annexation and the Mexble contest on the Texas annexation and the Mexican war, his arm dealt some of the heaviest blows, and always on the side of Precdom and true Conservatism. If elected to the high position for which he is now placed before the peopple, he can be relied upon as a staunch, unyielding opponent of slavery extension, a friend of free labor, and the nationalization of freedom, a devoted patriot, a sagacious and experienced statesman.

From the Madison Journal.

While we recognize the fact that the question now before the Sovereign people of the Union is a question of principles, in the main; still, it is painfully evident that the nation needs a man in

It would do your soul good to hear them talk, and to judge from their representations, Pennsylvania is safe beyond a doubt. The whole of the north, northwestern and middle portions are imbued with the right santiment and will roll up a prodigious majority against the slavery propagandists, while in the eastern and southern portions, Mr. Fillmore will divide the yote with Buchanan, sufficient to give us the Center Will divide the content of the product of the state of the state of the sufficient to give us the State. This is good news, indeed, and I think I can assure you of its accuracy.

The Triline says in regard to the position of Col. Fremont . Preverted and erroneous atstements of Col. Fre mont's position toward one of the clements in the proposed union of the Free States against the Pro-Slavery party, have been industriously cirrecolavery party, have been industriously ele-culated over the country by his opponents. These statements are entirely unauthorized and altogether untrue. Col Fremont recognizes no American or Anti-American party, Whig, Demo-crat, Abolitouist, native or foreign, in this can-rass; but simply a union of the people, of all parties, on terms of perfect equality, to secure freedom and justice for Kaussa, to overthrow the party and polley of the Administration, and heparty and policy of the Administration, and by and destroys its nearest and ness interests. In no other light does he desire to be regarded by conventions of parties or assemblages of the people. As an instrument to such ends does he alone give authority for the use of his name in connection with the Presidency.

TONICS WON'T DO!

Tarrnever did do more than give temporary relief and hey never will. It is because they don't touch the cara f the disease. The cause of all ague and billious diseases is the atmospheric poison called Hissma or Maleria. New tralice this poison by its NATURAL ANTIDOTE, and al disease chused by it disappears at once. Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cureis this Antidote to Malaria, and moreover it is a perfectly harmless medicine. The certificate of the selebrated chemist, J. R. Record, Exq. Dear Sir Tours of the 2d last, is at hand. The Cure arrived late last year, and the difficulty in getting any one to try it was greatly increased from the fact that a remedy had been introduced which was growing in favor with the public, as being better than using Quinine-not knowing I presume that the remedy they used to escape taking Quinine, contained the DRUG ITERLY! This remedy (known as " smith's Tonic,") would lavariably BREAK an Ague, but it did not CURE it, as it would often return with renewed vigor. This one circumstance I deemed in your favor, if I could institute a test compar Three persons took your " Oure," all of which were ca ses of "Quotidian Intermittent Fever," of many weeks standing. They had tried Quintur, and other remedies necessionally missing a chill, but it was (as in all and reser) clowly wearing them out, and laying the foundation of other and severer muladics. I did succeed in effecting a radical cure of all three of these cases with you remedy, and they have not had a chill since. In all three of these cases the "Smith's Tonic" had been used, and would, as before stated, break the chill, but after a period or two had elapsed it would return.

I think there will be no difficulty now in giving to your *Cure" the vanisge ground of any other remedy no will are here, &c., &c.

J. A. RHODES, Esq: — Dear Sir: — As I took your needcine on consignment, "no cure, no pay," I take pleasure in stating its effects as reported to me by three brothers who live in this place, and their testimony is a fair specinen of all I have received:

W. S. Conklik told me—"I had taken nine bottles of Christie's Ague Balsam, and continually run down while using it until my lungs and liver were congested to that degreethat blood discharged from my mouth and bowels, so that all thought it impossible for me to live through another chill. The doctors, too, did all they could for me, but thought I must dies. "Nothing did me any good antigot Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cure, which at once rehevmy head and bowels, and produced a permanent cur-is good a doctor as we have in our county, and taken any santity of quinine and specifics without any good result rom 25th August to 17th December. But see iy it operated on my brother, I got a better B 180 MDF5' FEVER AND AGUE CURE, which effected a permanent cure by using two-thirds of a bottle."

S. M. COMELIN WSS not here, but both the other brothers in a short time,"

H. M. Cossian says:-"I had been taking medicine of as an constant was not never, but but me did the medicins say his case was the same as H. M.'s. I sold the medicins to both the same day, and the cure was as speedy from he same small quantity, and I might so specify. A. HUNTINGTON. Yours with respect,

The above speaks for itself. Good proof as it is, it is on better enter than the vest number of the certificates I have already published, and the still greater ascent that have already published, and the still greater amount that is continuately pourling into me.

One thing more. Last year I had accession to caution the public in these words:

"I motion one firm who have taken one of my general airculars, substituted the name of their nostrumfor my medicine, and then soith brazen impudance and their pamphies with the evolunation, "Let the proprietors of any other medicine say as much if he dark," de.

Now I take measured assign the the Continuation. Now I take pleasure in saying that the Caution referred to the same "Dr. Christie's Ague Balsam " that is mentioned in the above certificate.

There are several other industrious people who are ap-Figure 1 their poisonous trash of that I public about my fever and Ague Care, or Antidoto to Malaria, except the Certificate of Gures, and the certificate of the celebrated Chrmist, Dr. Junce R. Celiton, of N. Y., in favor of its HARMLESS OHARACTER, which is attached to every bottle. These will always serve to distinguish my medicins from initiations.

(The Convention then called out, and was adressed in succession by Calen B. Smith of Ia., and Senator Witson of Massachusetts. We can only give a few paragraphs from the remarks of the latter :) He was greeted with three distinct rounds of cheers. He commenced by a quotation from Mr. Seward's speech, in which he said he was not acaggressions of the Slave Power. I call upon those Democrats who have heretofore fought the battles of the Democrate; not battles of Slavery—who have stood by the Democratic party, but can follow its banner no longer, to come here and let us make the true Democratic Porty that shall represent genuine Democratic America. I ask these Americans who profess exalted patriotism and love of country, to unite with us and save the first principles of American liberty, namely. Free first principles of American liberty, namely, Free Speech, Free Press, Free Soil and Free Kansas.

ral Government. I believe that now the gentleman who represent you of the North have resolved to speak their sentiments with absolute and entire freedom. I believe they have made up their minds to go where duty requires them to go, and to vote as duty requires they should vote. I believe they have made up their minds to defend their control of the property wherever, have they have the property wherever, have they are made to the property wherever.

"try, for they are the party of Union, Law, Or"der and Liberty."
Immense applause greeted Mr. Wilson at the conclusion of his remarks, and the Convention then adjourned till 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Seward be nominated by acclamation.

This last motion prevailed at once, and the announcement was followed by the most enthusiastic cheering. These cheers were repeated again and again. After they had partially subsided, Hon. G. W. Patterson, the Chairman, rose to address his associates. He had a painful duty to perform and one which we despite accept.

there could be no doubt that freemen of the North would with one voice rally to his support. But the battle ground of freedom was still on the floor of the United States Senate, and we felt that its standard bearer should not be removed from the contest, or the scene of his labors be changed. Such was the feeling of the immediate personal and political friends of Mr. Seward. CITY MATTERS. POLICE COURT, JUNE 21.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE. The five little boys, who were arrested and confined du ring the night in the Watch House, were brought round to answer the charge of larceny, of stealing a number of tools. The Court reprimanded them severely, intimating to them plainly that he had their names down in his book and if they were again brought before him he would se Verely purish them; after that, as it was their first of-fence, he discharged them under the direction of the District Attorney.

Before the boys were discharged, they commenced charging each other with several thefis, but one of them stoutly depled having stolen anything, and claimed that he had been imprisoned without cause, Stephen McCormick was brought up from the Watch House on a charge of beating his wife. The complaint being read, the defendant said, "I didn't do anything Very bad to her. I gave her a cloud or two on the head about a w ek ago, and she had me took up for it." The defendant clumed that he hadn't beat her as late as the complaint charged—"didn't remember doing it as late as that." The case was finally adjourned to June 24th, and the defendant sent back to jail.

James Howen, for drankenness, was sent to jail 5 days,
J. Miss, for being disorderly, was fined 49. Lenes Rose was discharged to the Poor House,

The two men arrested by Dep. Sherida Parsons and O'Brien, were examined on a charge of having counter-feit money in their possession with intent to pass the same; and committed for trial, in default of $560 ball.

"FRANK LEGLIE'S ILLUSTRIGAD NEWSPAPER." We have just received the first number of the second volume of this admirable piper, published weekly in New York, at the per number, thirty-two pages, eight of illustrations. It resembles closely, in its general style, the the Localou Illustrated News, only that its subject matter is a lapted to American, justual of English readers.— There are no trashy stories, no continental rhymes, but the editor sims, and successfully, to make it a mirror of the times for American readers. Its illustrations are scarcity inferior to those of the popular London paper above ment, oned. Persons who wish to preserve the volumes complete, will do well to call immediately upon such of our dealers as get this really valuable paper.

House.—Burlingume defended Massachusettagainst several specific charges, claiming that in all that constitutes true greatness she is the first State, and her present performances are superior to her past patients recollections. She was sorry to find at the head of her list of assailants the President of the U.S. who had deliberately perverted history, and eulogized the South at the expense of the North. Massachusetts believed with South Carolina the fugitive slave law to be unconstitutional, and cited the Charleston Mercury as authority. In ronclusion he referred to Summer's speech, the nobleness of its sentiments and the severity of its structures against tyrany. Sumner, he said, never had a personal enemy. He was as pure as the snow which falls on his native hills, and his heart overflowed with kindness to every human being hearing the upright form of man.

"Life on the Ocean Wave." "A life on the Olean Wave!"
The man who wrote it was green.
He never had been to sea.
And a storm he never had some.

He never had seen a wave
As it dashed o'er the vessel's deck,
He never had seen a fire at sea,
Or been floating u on a wreek.

He nover has been aroused From his morning's gentle doze By the sound of the slashing water, As it fell from the horrid hose He never has heard a man Scrubbing right over his head, With a noise sufficient to rouse From the grave the slumbering dead

He never has seen a f t woman Grow thinner day by day. And leaning over the vessel's side Throwing herself away.

Willie people look carelessly on, Though in tears the woman may be, And unfeelingly say it is nothing at all, Only the reli of the rea.

Seasick he ne'er has been to his toer, And crept into bed in his cost. While every motion increased his throcs, And his feelings were all in his throat. That man may have sailed in a boat,
In some puddle or on a sound,
But if he had been to set, and wrote
Such a song, he dearwes to be drown'd

N Y Spirit of the Tames.

Tow Moore's Politics.—The subjoined lively epigram was published in Dublin, at the time that the representation of Limerick was offered

When Limerick, in little whim,
Moore as her member lately couried,
'The boys," for form's sake, ask'd of him
To state what party he supported. When thus his answer promptly ran (Now give the wit his meed of glory,) "I'm of no party as a man, But, as a poet, am-a tory.

These clever verses have been attributed to en of the late witty Dominick Renayne, M. P EXPURGATION EXPLAORDINARY.—A gentleman was conveniing with the Professor of Moral Philosophy at the West Point Military Academy, not long since in reference to the text books used at that institution. "What text books do you use in moral science 5" asked the former. "Wayland." But how do you get along with the chapter on sluvery ""Oh! that is expurgated if The Secretary of War cut that out." It is thus that Literature, Philosophy and Ethics are tortured and emaculated for the convenience of Slavery.

No man over prospered in the world with-out the co operation of his wife.—Exchange. Co-operation? That must be to furnish her with hoops. Or perhaps it is go "staving around" with her—either of which is much casier than to "head" her.
